

SCOTLAND
PEGGY BAYER TEAM

Chloe Farrell

Chloe is 19 and is working as a mechanical engineer apprentice.

She has previously taken part in the 26th European Youth Bridge Teams in 2017, and this is her fourth Peggy Bayer appearance, after playing bridge for almost seven years.

In her free time Chloe enjoys reading and crochet, she always has a book or a crochet project at hand to work on if given the opportunity.

David Tobias

David is 19 and is in his second year studying physics at Warwick University.

Despite learning quantum mechanics as part of his course, trying to work out how many cards are remaining in a suit is still a struggle.

Since starting MiniBridge in 2013, he has been playing bridge for nine years, and always enjoys the Peggy Bayer.

Jamie Day

Jamie is the former leader of an investment team at a finance company. He illegally stole money from his clients' balances, then invested it in risky stocks which all failed, resulting in the loss of 6 billion IMPs.

To solve his financial problems, Jamie agreed to participate in the Peggy Bayer.

Kevin Ren

Kevin is 17 and in his final year of secondary school. He spends his time studying the night before every test, practicing the violin once a week the day before his lesson, swimming regularly to try to get back into shape, and making 2-level overcalls with Jxxxx, sacrificing in 5CX, going down four and presenting a gift-wrapped 1100 points to the opponents. He is the youngest in the team though, so gets forgiven every time. He also likes to try to convince people that Casino Royale is the best Bond film, throwing the remote out the window when Man Utd bottle another game, sitting around uncomfortably and cluelessly when his friends discuss anime, and making fun of Harry's stubble.

Harry Stuart

Harry is from the Ssangmun-Dong district of Seoul. Besides working as a chauffeur he is a gambling addict and has built up huge debts. When down on his luck he was recruited to play in the Peggy Bayers, a series of deadly childhood games for a high cash prize.

Aidan Woodley

Aidan is a sixth-year pupil at Queensferry High School in Edinburgh, and his home club is the New Melville. He is the veteran of the team, having competed in the Peggy Bayer for the past two years.

NPC Daniel Hamilton

Danny "Doctor" Hamilton is an aged man who prefers the excitement of the Peggy Bayer to the real world. He is one of the top three bridge players in his family, playing regularly online with his wife and teaching his six year-old daughter.
